

Basil Seggos, Acting Commissioner of the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation had a conversation with Jericho Superintendent Hank Grishman on March 16, 2016. During that conversation, Mr. Seggos said the DEC would:

- Re-test all wells around the impacted site and update the plume maps
- Work with Jericho's independent testing company and coordinate results
- Push back the date of the public comment period
- Schedule another public meeting

The Jericho School District to update the community as new information becomes available.
