

Information for families that don't have home internet:

Most of the nation's telecom providers are opening up their wifi hotspots to all users and their devices, not just those of subscribers.

Altice/Optimum and Verizon have both signed on according to the FCC, and they are the dominant internet providers in our area.

If you do not have home internet access, families can go here to find nearby spots: <https://www.optimum.net/internet/hotspots/>

Connecting to a hotspot will get your device online and allow students to download and submit work as needed.